Ga. Governor assailed by leader of SCLC

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ga. — Hosea Williams, a regional leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and aide to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., addressing a local mass meeting this week pronounced a 120-mile march on Atlanta.

Williams said Negro people active in the civil rights movement will back up a boycott of Tallapoosa County schools. He also declared that Gov. Carl E. Sanders "is going to have a long hot winter in Georgia."

Recently he has accused Gov. Sanders of selling out Negro support which he claims elected him governor. He said "... Gov. Sanders wants to be senator, we're going to decide who is going to be senator. And Carl Sanders is dead politically."

Williams told persons attending the mass meeting, "I know we are going to have to march on Atlanta. Don't say you can't march the 120 miles, you can."

Negro people of Tallapoosa County have been boycotting the schools since all white pupils were transferred to schools in surrounding counties rather than integrate. Several minor clashes over the county have been followed by a warning from Gov. Sanders that state truancy laws will be invoked to halt the school boycott in Tallapoosa County.

Gov. Sanders in a news conference referred to the state's reformatory schools. But declined to say if he meant to send Negro truants to these institutions.

However, the implication was noted and he said "... I favor the enforcement of all Georgia laws."

City employee dies; trapped in apartment fire

Herman Starks, age 30, 2144 1/2 N. New Jersey, died in a fire in his third floor attic apartment early last Saturday morning. Firemen said he was killed by smoke inhalation and intense heat.

Fire officials venture that he was trapped in the apartment following a blaze started evidently in a couch. His body was found behind a wall partition, and firemen venture he tried to escape the fire through a narrow passageway leading from a closet.

Starks was employed by the city sanitation department. He was a life-long resident of the city and a member of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church.

Funeral rites were held on Thursday of this week in the Willis Mortuary. The burial was in Floral Park Cemetery.

Survivors include two brothers, Hershel and Charles Starks and three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Starks, Mrs. Anna Bell Smith and Mrs. Martha Ray, all of this city.

Klan extends 'amnesty deal' to Catholics

WILMINGTON — The Ku Klux Klan which flourished over the Southland, after its origin around 1866 in Tennessee, more or less for a decade was anti-Negro, anti-Roman Catholic and anti-Jew. The modern order, or following its revival around 1915, was dedicated to thwarting the political and socio-economic aspirations of Negro people, Jews and Roman Catholics and at one time spread over forty states. In 1924 the Klan was reported as having a membership of 2,500,000.

Seemingly on the revival of the Klan in recent or as early as 1933 the Klan added Communism or communism to its scope of the rejected and abominable.

Ralph E. Pryor, Jr., grand dragon of the United Klans of America in Delaware, announced this week that the policy of his organization has been reserved in so far as Roman Catholics are concerned.

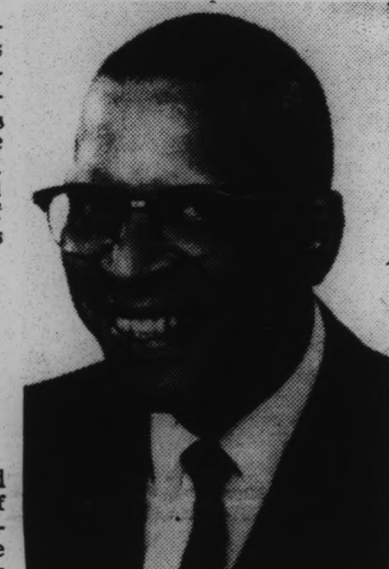

Pryor claimed that as many as one-fourth of the members of the Klan in one Delaware county are Catholics and that Catholics hold four out of ten state offices in Delaware.

However, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John H. Dewson, spokesman for the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington disagrees with grand dragon Pryor.

MSGR. DEWSON declared, "... to be a Catholic and a member of the Ku Klux Klan is a contradiction in terms. I don't see how, either as a Christian or an American, a person can in good conscience belong to the Klan ..."

Name Kuykendall to committee to study property tax reforms

RUFUS C. KUYKENDALL
... Named to GOP Comm

Rufus C. Kuykendall, local attorney, was named this week to a special Republican committee to study the property tax. Charles W. Edwards, Spencer, former state representative, is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Edwards stated that his committee will, "Get rid of the tax termites that are eating up the homes of people in Indiana."

The group is to consider several possible solutions to the situation which finds property taxes higher than ever, even though the state got a 26% boost in Revenues in 1964, with the aim of a property tax release.

The appointment of Kuykendall, makes good a promise made recently by Charles O. Hendricks, Republican State Chairman, that he will appoint Negroes to every working committee of the Republican State organization.

Harry Groves, chairman of the 5th ward, was appointed last week, to a special Republican Advisory Committee, which includes former Republican officeholders, and prominent workers and fund raisers throughout the state.

James C. Cummings Jr., manager of Barrington, was named, Thursday of last week, chairman of a special Task Force, which will do research and formulate a program to be pursued by the state organizations, in its attempt to regain a larger share of Negro votes.

Serving with Cummings are: Attorney Harriett Bailey Conn, Elmo Coney, and Arthur Rhea, all of Indianapolis. The Task force will include representatives from every major county in the state and will be charged with the responsibility of organizing election campaigns in every section of the state and providing leadership, with the aim of bolstering the regular organization efforts in the various areas.

Fifty persons attended the meeting last week, representing ten counties. The next state wide meeting of the group is reported to be held in about sixty days.

WASHINGTON — Congressman Adam Clayton Powell (Dem. N.Y.) a controversial international personality last weekend demanded the resignation of a National Park Service historian George J. Svejda.

Mr. Svejda (pronounced Svyda) a native of Czechoslovakia has been in this country about 15 years according to Congressman Powell. He is employed by the New York office of the National Park Service (Department of the Interior) and has been engaged recently in planning or preparing some exhibits of the American Museum of Immigration.

Congressman Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee in a recent letter to Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, charged Svejda's continued employment would be "an unfortunate insult by the federal government to America's 20 million Negro citizens."

Svejda's hassle with Powell or the other way around stems out of Svejda's concepts of the role of Negro people in the exhibit. But his concept or proposal of the role of Chinese and Japanese in the exhibit at the same time provoked the wrath of Congressman Powell.

Seemingly, or quoting Congressman Powell, Svejda proposed:

"... As far as the Negro immigration is concerned, it will be presented in an exhibit called 'The Uprooted' which will show these involuntary immigrants from Africa."

"This story will be shown by a scale model of slave specimens, as for example a slave shackled, leg irons, a whip and a lock, through which we plan to show ... conditions which these people suffered ..."

Again he (Svejda) proposed "... Chinese immigration will be presented together with the Japanese ... stress will be placed on (the Chinese) contribution in the building of the Central Pacific railroad in addition to their centers called 'Chinatown', showing the con-

LIUZZO SLAYER'S DAY IN COURT RESET FOR OCT. 19

HAYNEVILLE — Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard announced here on Wednesday that the murder trial of Collier Leroy Wilkins has been postponed or continued to Oct. 19. Wilkins, Ku Klux Klan member charged with the slaying last spring of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, Detroit, civil rights worker, was tried once before. But a mistrial was declared when the jury failed to agree on a verdict.

Judge Thagard presided during the trial this week of Thomas L. Coleman in the slaying of Jonathan M. Daniels.

Father Divine's followers say cult leader will rise again

Father Divine's newspaper, "The New Day," broadly suggested last week that he will rise again, as the way was cleared for his burial on the grounds on Woodmont, the beautiful 73-acre estate 16 miles from Philadelphia, which he loved so well.

A spokesman for the township told news reporters that a study of Pennsylvania state laws shows no statutes that would prevent Father Divine followers from burying him in a crypt on the Woodmont property and that since members of the township have no objections the way is now clear for his burial.

His body is currently in a crypt at West Laurel, Pa. "The New Day," official organ of the Movement, last devoted its entire front page to a huge picture of Father Divine.

The caption said in part: "... It is our resolve that through us you will have found a channel through which to draw mankind to the perfect state of being as portrayed by the Woodmont Consciousness where, as members of Your Body, we are sealed within, to the day that you arise to shake terribly the earth, liberating all men from the throes of mortality to live eternally in their original heritage; the peaceful state of paradise, the consciousness of the presence of God."

FATHER DIVINE
Resurrection Predicted
The quotation is signed: "Your true and faithful followers throughout the world." Inside, the paper devotes a great deal of space to speeches made by Father Divine dating all the way back to 1938.

Unlike the empire of Daddy Grace, who left millions and whose death set off an immediate fight among his followers, there has not been even a murmur of a split or uprising within the Divine organization.

The only controversy heard after Father Divine's death is one which started when he was alive. That involves a New York man who has repeatedly claimed that he is Father Divine's son and that the real Father Divine died a number of years ago.

He has not been able to get many to listen to his story. A closeup of how death came to Father Divine was given to newsmen by close associates. Father Divine died about 9:20 in the morning in his followers immediately called Atty. Norris, who though not a member of the Movement was one of Father Divine's close friends. Norris immediately traveled the 16 miles to Woodmont where he found Father Divine's faithful secretaries surrounding his body which at that time lay on a doctor's couch.

After the secretaries had been given time for their last farewell, the male attendants at Woodmont were permitted to see him. Later, his body was carried downstairs to his office where it was viewed by thousands.

'Self defense' plea; jury frees Daniels' killer

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. — After deliberating a little longer than one hour and forty minutes Thursday morning, a jury of 12 men returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the manslaughter trial of Thomas L. Coleman.

Coleman was the defendant in the shotgun (blast) slaying on the afternoon of August 20 of Jonathan M. Daniels and the near fatal wounding of the Rev. Morrisroe, both civil rights workers in Alabama.

THE VERDICT was indicative of the atmosphere attending the trial, or the spirit and feeling in the community before or since the stark tragedy of the afternoon of last August 20.

On the first day of the trial, Circuit Judge T. Werth Thagard directed that the Alabama Attorney General Richmond Flowers and his staff withdraw from prosecution of the case.

This followed a request for a delay by Assistant Attorney General Joe Breck Gantt, acting on orders of Attorney General Richmond Flowers. Gantt asked for a delay because he said the state could not proceed without a key witness — still recovering from wounds received when Daniels was killed.

Further Gantt argued that the state could not get a fair trial in Lowndes County ...

Previously, acting on orders of Attorney General Flowers Gantt asked for a "nolle prosequere" (no prosecution) after Judge Thagard on the second request refused to delay the trial. In this connection Attorney General Flowers had sought postponement of the trial, saying he would seek a murder indictment against Coleman.

On the first day of the trial attorneys for Coleman proposed to show that the part-time deputy sheriff shot in self-defense. The prosecution rested after putting witnesses on the stand who testified that Daniels was unarmed. The prosecution also introduced a statement that the Rev. Richard Morrisroe was shot in the back while retreating from the scene.

Four young Negro persons, dedicated, said an undaunted affiliate of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee along with Jonathan M. Daniels and the Rev. Richard Morrisroe entered the small store, scene of the tragedy on the afternoon August 20. They had intended to buy various items or articles of food.

The four dedicated, said and undaunted affiliates of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee were, Willie Vaughn, Ruby Sales, Gloria Larry and Joyce Bailey. A little earlier in the afternoon this group of six persons along with 21 others had been released from jail where they had been retained a week on $100 bond for disturbing the peace without a permit.

The four SNCC members, the same night and the next morning (Aug. 21) declared and

Rosh Hashanah noted; Jewish New Year starts

According to the Hebrew calendar at sunset last Sunday Jewish people over the world began the observance of Rosh Hashanah heralding the arrival of the New Year of 5726, corresponding to September (26) 1965 Julian calendar.

Rosh Hashanah is the first of the great "Days of Awe" a ten-day period culminating in the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur.

According to Hebrew tradition, during the ten-day period man's fate is written down on Rosh Hashanah and sealed at the last on the final tenth day of Yom Kippur which begins this year at sundown, Oct. 5. Orthodox and Conservative Jews observe Rosh Hashanah for two days, most Reform Jews for only one day.

The commandments for the observance of the holiday are described in the biblical book of Leviticus, compiled three thousand years ago.

The Jewish New Year is markedly different in character from the joyous, exuberant celebrations of other peoples. Rosh Hashanah, one of the most ancient sacred days in Jewish history, is a profoundly serious time when Jews pray, examine their acts and their relationship to God and to each other, and remember the past and dedicate themselves to the future.

214 job bias complaints filed under 1964 civil service act

WASHINGTON, D.C.—In a stepped-up effort to settle racial discrimination embodied in collective bargaining agreements, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has filed a series of complaints with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission alleging violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Herbert Hill, the Association's director for labor relations, filed a total of 214 complaints with the Commission here, Sept. 15. Targets of his complaints, filed on behalf of NAACP members in 14 states, were major industrial corporations, trade unions, commercial institutions and state employment services. Collaborating in the action with the Association was the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

Among companies and unions charged with entering into agreements which provide discriminatory separate racial seniority lines were the United States Steel Corporation and the United Steel Workers of America; the Pittsburgh Glass Company and the International Association of Machinists; the International Paper Company and the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers Union.

Also the United States Rubber Company and the International Chemical Workers Union; Monsanto Chemical Company; and the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union.

All these companies and unions have entered into agreements for separate seniority lines in southern states, Mr. Hill charged.

Complaints against the textile industry included J. P. Stevens Company, Wallace, N.C.; the Draper Corporation, Spartanburg, S.C.; Warsaw National Spinning Company, Warsaw, N.C.; Burlington Industries, Fayetteville, N.C.; Dan River Mills, Danville, Va.

Complaints were also filed against several building trades unions including the International Union of Operating Engineers; Brotherhood of Painters; the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union; and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, all of Cincinnati, Ohio; and the Cement and Concrete Workers Union, New York City.

Others named in the complaints were the Florida National Bank, Jacksonville, Fla.; First Citizens Bank, Fayetteville, N.C.; Ingalls Shipbuilding, Pascagoula, Miss.; North Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company; Philip Morris Tobacco Company, Richmond, Va.; Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, Marietta, Ga.; Illinois Central Railroad; the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers Union; and the International Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, McComb, Miss.; and Consolidated Edison Company, New York City.

The Rev. Mr. Strange added, "Project 1" is a program for the area... this multimillion dollar project would provide housing for 800 to 900 families... how does the Redevelopment Commission expect anyone to move into a neighborhood where they will be exposed to fumes from melted lead?

Several householders in the area from 18th to 24th St. said the fumes or odors were especially bad on wet days and since the plant has been out of operation they have found out "what it is to breathe again."

Three or more householders of the area asserted that rebuilding the plant would be detrimental to health and hamper new home building in the redevelopment project.

Paul Scott, 2253 Hillside, said that in seasons of wet weather he had to close the windows of his home, even on hot days.

Richard Merriweather, 2311 Caroline, said that fumes from the lead processing plant were nauseating or offensive and even caused vegetables in his garden to taste bad.

All parties to the remonstrance said the fumes from the plant were detrimental to health, and since the plant had been razed by fire it should not be rebuilt on the same site, but rather on the outskirts of town.

The firm was denied a permit to rebuild the plant on the former site last July when a group of people of the community appeared before the Marion County Board of Zoning Appeals. On rehearing of the complaint in Superior Court they believe they will be sustained in their protest.

They submit among other proposals; Do not use spring-type snap locks on your outside doors. Any amateur burglar, even a child, can open such locks with a piece of celluloid. Rather use the "safe deadlock bolt type." Be certain that "sturdy pin-tumbler cylinder locks" are on all exterior doors of your home.

The pin-tumbler cylinder lock invented by Linus Yale, Jr. is rated as the most secure lock ever devised.

CONCLUDING, an unseemingly but almost universal habit of householders over our land contributes to the yearly spectacle of 1-million home burglaries. It follows that some of our neighbors and friends leave notes and letters in their mail boxes noting that the front door key is under the doormat. Or they leave the key in other traditional places which even the child-burglar or house-breaker has heard of, or learned about at home or from his family's friends or neighbors.

Other surveys or statistics indicate that for every minute of the day two home burglaries are committed over the land or more than 1 million each year.

Sponsors of the surveys assert that home burglaries are the nation's most common and fastest-growing crime in which it has been indicated that individuals, ages 8 to 80 have participated.

Complacent or neglected householders help to make it one of the easiest areas of criminal activity. They let newspapers or mail and milk accumulate on the front porch when away from home for any extended period of time.

THEY FAIL to lock all windows and doors, basement, first floor, second floor, attic, etc. If at all possible householders are advised to have police or sheriffs make an occasional check of their homes and ground if they are away for any extended period of time.

Over the entire land many burglars specialize in looting homes left unguarded by people on vacation or extended trips.

The most popular targets for home burglars, today, are found in almost every type of home - clothes, radios, electric appliances, silverware, sports equipment, cameras and any other portable items easily disposed of or sold.

The Bureau of Police Science at Iowa State University and Yale & Towne Company, one of the largest lock-making organizations in the world, have conducted extensive research into the best methods of foiling home burglars.

Ku Klux Klan plans drive for members in Ind.

COVINGTON, Ky.—The Ohio Kleagle, Parkie Scott of the Ku Klux Klan announced here during a rally last Sunday that the Klan plans to step up membership drives with rallies this fall in Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Plans are seemingly indefinite, but Klan activity in the State of Michigan is under consideration, pending a site of activity.

The crowd attending the meeting here last Saturday was estimated at about 300 by police, but only a handful of persons attended the Sunday afternoon meeting.

Concerning activities of the Klan elsewhere the rector Collier Leroy Wilkins for the slaying of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, Detroit, in Alabama last spring was scheduled for this week.

Also the trial of Tom Coleman, part-time deputy sheriff, was scheduled to start early this week. Coleman faces charges of man-slaughter in the August 20 shotgun slaying of Episcopal seminarian Jonathan Daniels at Hayneville, Ala.

Attorney General, Richmond Flowers of Alabama is seeking a continuation to give him time to try to change the indictment against Coleman to murder.

Fall festival at Goodwill center scheduled Oct. 1

The Fall Festival or display of hand-sewn articles made by women of churches affiliated with the Methodist City Council Auxiliary for Goodwill Industries will be held Friday, Oct. 1, at 1635 W. Michigan St. on this occasion.

Articles from fifty churches will be on display at the Indianapolis Goodwill Industries, Inc. center in W. Michigan St. on this occasion.

Proceeds from sales of articles on display will help further job-training and rehabilitation of Goodwill's handicapped workers. Some of these articles will be sold at other Goodwill stores.

Festival displays will be open to public after 2:00 p.m. for viewing and purchasing. Articles offered or on display will include baby clothing, children's and adults' clothing, quilts, comforts, household linens, etc.

Raw materials for the volunteer sewing are the yardgoods, skeins of yarn, crochet, and embroidery threads, half-made garments, and odds and ends of sewing materials that the public donates in Goodwill bags.

The Methodist City Council Auxiliary is an organization representing the Methodist Church Women in the greater Indianapolis area. They serve both Goodwill Industries (through the sewing and by promoting Goodwill in their churches) and the Fletcher Place Church and Community Center.

Current membership in the Auxiliary is 94 churches; however, about 40 of these are new and have not been involved in the work of the Auxiliary before the 1965-1966 year. The additional membership is from the redistricting of the Methodist Church.

U.S. ATTORNEY SEND FIVE MORE VOTE REGISTRARS INTO MISSISSIPPI AREA

WASHINGTON — Federal vote registrars were ordered into five more counties of Mississippi by Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach. These were additional counties where it was charged officials had refused to register Negro people to vote on grounds of illiteracy.

Following provisions of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, this brought to a total of 19 counties the number where federal registrars have been sent.

The Attorney General's office said the additional examiners had been sent into the state because of a series of suits brought by Mississippi Attorney General, Joe Patterson. He filed suits to prevent the registration of people said to be unable to read and write.

The 19 counties includes nine in Mississippi, six in Alabama and four in Louisiana. Near 45,000 Negro people have been registered in these counties.

"Dropouts aren't dumbells", education experts says

Dropouts aren't dumbells and intelligence group. They are educators and student counsel. Butler pointed to the many students from all levels of society and attainment, Dr. Broadus Butler urged during his talk before the annual pre-registration meeting of the Lincoln University faculty (Wednesday). Dr. Butler is special assistant to Higher Education in the office of Education, Washington, D.C.

He said that students must be seen as individuals rather than a good or poor attainment record. He cited many cases where attainment was not an indication of the high school pupils true ability.

"Many of them know what has happened to them. They know that they are trapped in a dead end strata by preconceived notions of educators and counselors—and they figure—'what the heck'—", Butler said.

"But," he continued, "these pupils, just because they do have, as a result of their attitude, a low attainment they should not be considered a low college scholarship." Butler predicted that the Project Headstarts will have pupils eventually so well prepared that plans are even now underway to reeducate their professors.

"People involved in these projects today have had to re-evaluate their standards and their approach. They found that they were as filled with myths concerning these low achievement pupils as was most everybody else. Instructors changed their planning and they too became culturally enlightened in a way they had not been prior to the sessions with these pupils.

Butler pointed out that the education community has now become extremely self-searching with the advent of government projects which have shown the American pupil is not under-motivated. He reviewed a project in Washington, D.C., for high school pupils of the fourth tract (potential dropouts) in which the demand for a place in the program far exceeded the facilities.

Butler said that the program received 100 per cent participation from the pupils. "Not one dropped out of the 12-week course."

He also noted that every pupil attained at least one higher level and many performed at two grade higher levels. Of the 53 in the program, 23 were recommended for college admission—some of whom had been high school dropouts. "Institutions will become more involved with these groups they have not reached," Butler predicted.

Propose Central kitchens for school lunch program

School lunches from centrally-located kitchens may provide a way to serve more than 2,000,000 children—many from needy families—now attending older urban schools without lunch programs because they have no cooking facilities, says a report issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Finding ways of expanding the lunch program to schools where the installation of kitchens and lunch rooms is not feasible is a matter of much current interest. School feeding generally will receive special attention during National School Lunch Week—October 10-16. Theme of the week to be proclaimed by President Johnson is "School Lunch Serves Child Health."

About 71,000 public and non-profit private schools now serve lunches to some 18 million pupils. Approximately 10 percent of the lunches are served free or at reduced prices to needy children.

However, more than 2,000,000 pupils in some 5,000 urban schools still are not participating in the school lunch program.

Centrally-located kitchens offer one possibility of providing lunches to more children, according to the USDA study of such facilities in eight urban areas: New York; Washington, D.C.; St. Louis, Mo.; Salt Lake County, Utah; Livonia, Mich.; Bremerton, Wash.; Kirksville, Mo.; and seven counties in West Virginia.

St. Louis is providing lunches to 28 of its 125 public elementary schools from five central kitchens. Schools served

Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart to keep Recorder Women Sponsor' Financial Crown

The opening Fall meeting for the Recorder Women Sponsors held the past Saturday at the residence of the director, Mrs. Paul A. Batties, proved to be a truly a grand day! The several distinguished guest speakers were warmly received by the enthusiastic members of the organization. They, the speakers were: (1) Mrs. Pauline Morton-Finney, who spoke on the Role of Volunteers in the Anti-Poverty Project at the pre-school level. (2) Mrs. Orinda Pence, a member of the professional staff of the Family Service Association who pointed up the factors that make for efficiency in volunteer service.

(3) Reverend Landrum Shields who directed the interest of all who were present to a consideration and appreciation of spiritual motivation in volunteer service. Everyone was greatly inspired by the program and the speakers. Rev. Shields is the director of the training of Mental Health Personnel at Central State Hospital, involving a professional staff of around (800) eight hundred. Adding to the pleasure of the day was the presence of young Dr. Paul Terry Batties at home from Detroit, where he is serving his internship, to spend the day with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Batties.

Financial reports were received by Mrs. Fredonia Stewart Temple. The highest report apart from the director's, Mrs. Batties, was submitted by Mrs. Gladys Carey who in a very charming manner suggested that the crown of fall leaves and flowers be given to Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart who has for eight years held the crown as "Queen for the Day" at the fall meeting and who, due to her illness, could not be present at this meeting to make her customary highest financial report of sponsors. In the absence of Mrs. Stewart, fondly referred to as "Aunt Lizzy," Mrs. Pauline Stewart accepted the crown with best wishes from the sponsors for "Aunt Lizzy's" speedy recovery.

In the absence of Mrs. Joseph Matthews, chairman, Mrs. J.W. Taylor presided over the meeting. In the course of the day other special guests were introduced as follows: Mrs. Mildred Scott, Mrs. Harriett Clemmons, Mrs. Norma Banner, and Miss Gloria Ann Morton-Finney. Mrs. Bernice Torrairie was introduced as a new sponsor. All were cordially welcomed. An expression of gratitude was extended to the committee in charge of the delightful and delicious luncheon. Members of the committee were: Mrs. Chester Gardner, chairman; Mrs. Fred Perdue, co-chairman; Mrs. Roosevelt Drane, Mrs. Willie Sanders, Mrs. William White, and Mrs. Robert Haynes, with all sponsors working cooperatively with them.

Following an altogether wonderful day of information and inspiration, Mrs. Batties commended the many members for their excellence in performance of their service to and through Recorder Charities and expressed gratitude to the distinguished guest speakers for their contribution to the success of the day. The closing benediction was given by Rev. Shields. The sponsors will continue their campaign for contributions clear up to the Holiday Season.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

A fine churchman and veteran, Vanmeter W. Parrott's funeral was held Saturday, September 25, at Barnes Methodist Church with Rev. N. H. Holloway, minister officiating. Rev. I. D. Dorsey gave remarks "As I Knew Him" while Roscoe Polin rendered a solo. Mrs. Lula Hughes acknowledged condolences, telegrams, etc. Active and Honorary Pall Bearers included Maurice Harrison, Floyd A. Blair, McCabe Betty, John Lacy, James Shaw, James Turman, Louis Cooper, Walter Dawson, Herschel Blackwell, Forrest, Wooley, Moses Standfield, Lee Lunderman, James Mallett, Thomas Bryant, J. C. Collins, Boyd Bell, Mark Jones, Clarence Smith, Houston Smith, Virgil Twines, Samuel Wright, Joseph Scott, Coleman Moore, and Arnold Vertner.

Hundreds of persons expressed their sympathy to the widow, Mrs. Thelma Parrott in the Chapel of Peoples Funeral Home. Mrs. Lula D. Hinton and brother, B. J. Jackson, wearing his American Legion cap, kept the crowd orderly. The number of floral designs showed that he was well remembered by many. Mrs. Hinton carried my membership into the Gailord Post Auxiliary—and she is our publicity chairman.

I regret the United Joyful singer's article did not get in last week due to space, however I was told they had a lovely program at the Charity Temple with No. 20 sponsoring. Mrs. Minnie Potter Clark, and Dr. C. J. Dailey of St. Paul Baptist Church also announced that Rev. L. L. Smith was their guest speaker on last Sunday.

Among those returning from vacations are Professor Wallace Wolfolk, who reports a grand time in Detroit visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harrison, formerly of this city. He took some time out in Canada. Mr. Wolfolk is former director of the New Bethel Baptist Church Choir.

As president of the Eastside Better Business and Civic League, I am appealing to all interested persons in the Lead Foundry Case, which comes up in Superior Court 4, next Monday, at 1:30 p.m. to be present especially if you feel that the fumes from the plant has caused much illness and some to die. Monday, October 4 will be your time to speak. As a resident of that community for 34 years, I will have plenty to say. Meet me there. Last Monday we were well represented by some of the prominent people.

Speaking of court, Judge Wilbur Grant was on the case, and he handled it well but seemingly the attorneys could not get together, therefore only the Lead Foundry representatives were heard.

Judge Grant invited your scribe into his chamber after the trial and I must say he has some place, with wall to wall carpeting, beautiful furniture and all that goes with it.

Fur-Collared—Warm Companions

How nice to snuggle into this beautiful coat when fall winds blow and Jack Frost says "snow." The National Board of the Coat and Suit Industry tells us that fur-trims are more fashionable than ever—so get ready for comfort as well as flattery.

Cloth coats are finding a deserved place in the smart woman's wardrobe because they are becoming as well as wearable. "You'll look better, you'll feel better in a coat or suit" is advice that often has been proven.

A delightful case in point, this softly shaped coat of nubby monotone wool with Queen Anne collar of beaver. In lovely fall tones with blending fur. About $210.

SOAP SOLD BY THE CHUNK

Along with the cracker barrel, huge cakes of soap were a familiar sight in the old general store. Sold by the pound, it was cut off chunks "to order" by the storekeeper. The soap was drab and harsh to the skin. Today, the modern homemaker can choose mild soap with AT-7, which protects the skin against bacteria, comes individually wrapped, and in a variety of colors to suit individual tastes. Modern deodorant soap is a boon to beauty and health.

Fall Fashions Keyed to Off-Beat Note

Off-beat color combinations in dresses and separates keynote the current fashion scene for teens. All systems are go for mixes and matches of solids, patterns and textures. So let your imagination run its course, right into your school-time and date-time wardrobe.

But once your vivid, vibrant fashions are worn and laundered a few times, it won't take any imagining to know they've lost some of their body and bounce. Holding the shape of fashion, though, is easy and little effort for you when you treat your washable fashions to some loving fabric care.

Virginia White, fashion consultant for the Faultless Starch Company, recommends following manufacturers' laundering instructions, and adds these hints for maintaining fashion brilliance:

—Whether you prefer your clothes damp dry or completely dry when you iron, Faultless spray-on starch will add just enough body and freshness for fashion's soft, casual look.

—Spray larger items and heavier fabrics a portion at a time and iron as you spray.

—For smaller articles and lightweight fabrics, it is easiest to spray the garment completely, then iron.

—To give a dress or blouse or skirt extra body, spray it once and iron, then lightly spray and iron again.

—To give ruffles, collars, cuffs, and waistbands additional body or smoothness (whether or not you spray-on starch the entire garment), simply spray, then press.

—Perk up A-line skirts by spraying the hemline and ironing on the wrong side.

—Hold creases crisply in slacks with an extra puff of spray-on starch and a touch of the iron.

You'll find that a little fabric care will go a long way in keeping your school-year fashions flattering and fresh.

Home Safety

More accidents occur at home where people feel they are safe than at any other place, according to safety experts in a new color film "Safety In The Home," produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, Inc. The film follows a family through its daily activities relating how accidents can be prevented by using common sense.

Church presents Bridge-Whist Fashion Show

Plans have been completed by the Phillippian Society of St. Phillip's Episcopal Church for their annual Bridge-Whist Fashion Show Luncheon. This year's gala affair "Trick and Treat with the Flips" will be in the Riley Room of the Claypool Hotel on Saturday, October 30, at 12:30 p.m.

Guests will be delighted with the pranks and tricks of the "Devil Imp", the luncheon and the modeling of gowns and wardrobes designed by a distinguished Modiste. There will be numerous door prizes, table prizes, and a drawing for cash prizes.

The Phillippians say that this is a date to mark as a "must" on your social calendar. Tables are available for groups or clubs. Secure your tickets early by contacting: Mrs. Rosalie Ross, AT. 3-2796, Mrs. Mary Johnson, CL. 1-3864, Mrs. Edith DeCoursey, AT. 3-8677 or the Parish office of the church, ME. 4-0345.

Tan stars lead Twins to first pennant win

While the San Francisco Giants and the Los Angeles Dodgers battled for the National League pennant, the Minnesota Twins began preparing for the World Series.

The Twins captured the American League pennant Sunday by defeating the Washington Senators, 2-1.

During the clubs' victory celebration, Twins manager to win successive crowns since Boston's Ted Williams did it in 1957 and '58. Other top tan stars on the power" in games when the team include Earl Battey, chips are down.

JIM (MUDCAT) GRANT
... Twins' Star Pitcher

Sam Mele, soaked in champagne, announced that he would start his star pitcher, tan hurler Jim (Mudcat) Grant, in the first game of the series.

Grant upped his record to 20-6 Saturday when he blanked Washington 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. He became the first pitcher in the league to win 20 games this season, allowing the Senators only one hit, a double in the third inning.

Mele also announced that Gamilo Pascual, who won Saturday's second game 5-3, would start the second game, while Jim Kaat, who clinched the flag with Sunday's victory, will pitch the third.

One of the key players in the three victories was hard-hitting Zoilo Versalles. Versalles, a prime candidate for MVP honors in the league, got four hits in Saturday's first contest, including a two-run homer in the fifth and a triple in the seventh.

Then on Sunday the keen shortstop tripled in the six inning and scored on a passed ball by Washington catcher Don Zimmer. In the eighth he drove in the winning run with a single.

He leads the Twins in stolen bases with 17, breaking his personal high of 16.

Another key player in the Twins lineup is Tony Oliva, last year's "Rookie of the Year" and 1965 American League batting champion, vying for a second straight title.

In Saturday's first game the young outfielder batted in one run and scored one on one hit. In the second contest he got two hits and scored a run.

If Oliva should win the batting crown, he would be first in the league.

ing or at any time thereafter.

Ruffed Grouse hunting . . . . . proposed season to extend from 9 A.M., November 10 through November 24, 1965, excluding Sundays in the following counties: Bartholomew, Brown, Jackson, Lawrence, Monroe and Morgan. Proposed daily bag limit is two (2), and the possession limit after the second day of the season is four (4).

Specific regulatory data will be released following the consideration of public comments in respect to their effect upon the proposals as stated herein.

SPOTLIGHT ON SPORTS

by Charles J. Livingston

ASHFORD MAKES MAJORS

EMMETT ASHFORD

Emmett Ashford has finally made it to the majors. He was signed recently by President Joe Cronin to a $10,000 American League contract to umpire in the Junior Circuit in 1966.

However, the dusky arbiter didn't make it solely on the basis of his unquestioned ability. He needed, and indeed got, a big assist from some of the fellows in press row who happen to be cast in his hue.

Ashford is not alone in this respect, for NO "soul (dark) Brother" ever really made it big in sports without such help.

In golf, the Negro press had been most vocal in support of Charlie Sifford when he ran into the racial barrier in professional golfing. He made it!

In baseball, the great Jackie Robinson crashed the long-standing race taboo with the help of not only the Negro press, but the NAACP as well.

And in boxing, the case of the former great heavyweight champion, Joe Louis, followed the same format. The help of the Negro press and community was tacitly enlisted. Joe's co-managers — John Roxborough and Julian Black — made certain that the support of the Negro masses was solidly behind Joe.

With such support, Joe was able to capitalize fully on his own sensational ability and became the first colored heavyweight champion since Jack Johnson.

Now it's Ashford's turn to share the support of the Negro press and fans. And so, let's hope he won't overlook or forget this.

I won't call names, but it's a matter of record that some tan stars, who have had such support afterwards, all but turned their backs on the Negro scribes.

Some have unjustly given credit to Johnny-Come-Lately, so-called white "friends" of the press who gave them little more than a passing chance when they were trying to break through the race barrier.

Two tan scribes who MUST NOT be forgotten when credit is given for Ashford's rise from a Pacific League umpire to become the first Negro umpire in the majors, are sports editor Brad Pye, Jr., Los Angeles Sentinel, and Robert L. "Brock" Brockenberry, a syndicated columnist.

These two guys have tooted the trumpet for the colorful little man in blue, insisting all the way up to Cronin that he deserves a chance in the big show. Not only did they sound off for Ashford, but they constantly urged Negro and white fans to bombard major league officials and club owners with letters demanding that they hire the very capable Ashford.

I, myself, had hopped on the bandwagon set in motion by Pye and "Brock." Now, their efforts have paid off.

I happen to know that Pye and "Brock" want no special credit for what they did. But I think they should be given recognition now, lest their efforts be forgotten in the aftermath of Ashford's almost certain major league success.

All this is not to say that Ashford could not have made it on his own. A Pacific League headlining umpire since 1954, he was rated the most colorful and perhaps the most efficient of West Coast arbiters.

His one drawback is described by his critics as his habit of overdoing things. Some regard him a "showboat," because of his tactic of charging a play with arms swinging in windmill fashion and yelling, "You're Out."

Yet Ashford has been a big hit with West Coast fans. A very energetic man with an extremely agile mind, he is one of the fastest play-callers in baseball.

This scribe is not suggesting that Ashford fall over backward to accommodate the men who aided his rise to the top. As an umpire, he cannot be expected to be too chummy with either players or scribes. But he doesn't have to be a snob, either.

I don't think he will be.

it was announced that the two would fight for the crown sometime in the near future. Neither a site nor date was announced for the fight. Patterson seems totally unconvinced by Clay's motion.

Who'll win NL pennant race?

Who'll win the National League pennant race?

That's the question ringing in the ears of baseball fans as the pennant race enters its final week with the Los Angeles Dodgers leading by one game (as of Wednesday's press time) over the hungry San Francisco Giants.

The Dodgers took the lead Tuesday night when Lou Johnson, an obscure hitter, hit a home run in the 12th inning to break a 1-1 tie with the Cincinnati Reds for a 2-1 victory. Meanwhile, the Giants, who had led or tied the league leaders since Sept. 16, lost a 9-1 decision to the World Champion Cardinals.

With five games remaining, the Dodgers had a good chance to move two games ahead as the Giants were idle Wednesday night. The Los Angeles team was to play one more game with the third place Reds, who have only a mathematical chance to win the pennant flag, and four with the fifth-placed Milwaukee Braves.

However, the Giants also have five games remaining, one with the Cardinals Thursday in 1949. Only two other players have hit more than 50 or more homers in NL play—Hack Wilson of Chicago, who holds the record of 56 in 1930, and Johnny Mize of the New York, with 51 in 1947.

Mays, who has led the league in homers this season—1955, '62 and '64, however, was quite unhappy.

"I'd gladly have given that home run back for a victory," he said after the game.

The Giants last won a pennant in 1962. The Dodgers won in 1963.

The Dodgers had won 11 straight games as of Wednesday night, while San Francisco has dropped five of its last seven. The Giants had won 17 of 18 to overtake the Dodgers who have led the league most of the season.

night and four with the Reds. JOHNSON, batting only .257, hit his 12th homer of the season. It was his finest hour and fellow Dodger players swamped him with hugs after the game —winning homer.

For the Reds it was disaster as the loss dropped them five games behind the leaders, meaning they would have to win all their remaining games and the Dodgers would have to lose theirs. And of course the Giants have something to say about that.

The Giants loss came as their celebrated outfielder, Willie Mays, popped his 51st homer of the season in his 2,000th major league game. It was his 504th of his career.

Mays tied another league record Saturday when he hit his 50th homer. He joined Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner as the only National Leaguers ever to hit 50 or more homers in two seasons.

The star now will attempt to break his home run record of 51, set back in 1955 with the Giants, then in New York. Kiner hit 51 in 1947 and 54

RUMOR YANKEES WILLING TO TRADE THREE FOR WILLIAMS

CHICAGO (NPI) — Rumors were flying last week that the faltering New York Yankees are so interested in Cubs' slugger star Billy Williams that they would consider giving up outfielder Roger Maris, pitcher Al Downing and infielder Phil Linz to get him. The 27-year-old Cub outfielder was hitting a lively .311 and had walloped 33 home runs when the trade talk began.

DETROIT (NPI) — Reggie Harding, seven-foot star of the Detroit Pistons basketball team —who broke into professional ranks without a day of college play—has drawn the heaviest fine in the history of the game, following his conviction on a charge of assault and battery against a Detroit policeman.

The 23-year-old star center, who makes an estimated $15,000 a year, was fined $2,000 and warned that any further incidents of misconduct would lead to his automatic suspension.

The Klan in Florida shows its colors

Addressing the eighty-fifth annual convention of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A. recently in Jacksonville, Fla., the president, Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, Chicago, declared "... We must not and will not, ... ever surrender the constitutional rights that this republic has promised and bequeathed to all of her sons ..."

"... But the rights struggle is, in reality, the struggle of Americans to implement all of the just laws of the land to fulfill every promise and pledge that America has made for the equality of all Americans ..."

Elsewhere, or around motels accommodating delegates to the Convention hooded members of the Klan including in one instance a small child displayed signs or banners, bearing among other legends - "Niggers, Jews and dogs go home."

We venture that hooded members of the Klan and their fellow-travelers including little children will disport themselves in like manners many times in seasons yet to come. But the infamy or shame of the situation poses over our way of life a "dividing wall of hostility" yet to be answered for on confronting peoples of a neighborhood world.

There is something particularly despairful in the "epithet" herein noted. Eventually, people of African blood or ancestry over our land, many of them, have some common ancestry with some of the most vile members of the Ku Klux Klan in Florida, Indiana, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi or elsewhere.

Even more provocative the Hebrew (Jew) of our land or his ancestors longer than one-hundred centuries (100) has been a precursor in the spiritual or ideal and material evolution of western civilizations. Beginning on the cradlelands of so-called modern civilizations, the Jew was there, North Africa, Central and Southern Europe and the Near East or western Asia.

The cradle of the western world's systems of thought and values follows an area along the Atlantic and North Coast of Africa to the Near East or Persian (Arab) Gulf. There was a time when the torch of western culture near flickered out, but remote ancestors of Hamitic (Afro-Asiatic) and Semitic peoples kept it ablaze to be transmitted to or over the western world.

However, over the western world we are confronted by anti-rational or scientifically false presumptions on genetic capacity or biological potential of people of a common historical background. Such presumptions survive, or thrive on misinformation and ignorance brewing hate and strife contrary to the spirit and letter of fundamental law of our republic.

Better late than never, today we are being told by honest and wise men of science and letters that the difference in achievement of people must be attributed to cultural opportunities and socio-economic environment. Following such a course of things the Ku Klux Klan shows its colors, not sustaining, but dedicating its activities to repressing or nullifying fundamental (legal) rights promised and bequeathed to all citizens of our republic.

New challenges on law enforcement

Thirty of the nation's leading churchmen recently joined in asking for a special Presidential commission to investigate the crisis in law enforcement in the United States.

Representing Protestant, Roman Catholic and Hebrew Congregations over the entire nation some of these eminent churchmen are leaders in the educational field and the contemporary crusade against bigotry and intolerance or politico-economic pedantry.

Among others, the group includes:

Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, vice-president at large, Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Rabbi Bal-four Brickner, director commission on Interfaith Activities, Union of American Hebrews Congregations; Msgr. Daniel M. Cantrell, Chicago, Catholic Council on Working Life; Rev. Joseph Fletcher, Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. and Rev. John L. McKenzie, S.J., Prof. of History, Loyola University, Chicago.

Others are as follows:

Bishop A. Raymond Grant, Methodist Church, Portland, Oregon; Rabbi Harry Halpern, Committee on Social Action, United Synagogue of America; Rev. James R. Smucker, executive director, Northeast Assn., United Church of Christ, Chicago; Rabbi Uri Miller, president, Synagogue Council of America or again other Roman Catholic, Protestant, and Hebrew Congregation leaders across the land.

The Presidential commission proposed by the group would take the place of an investigation of the Ku Klux Klan by the U.S. House Un-American Activities Committee. The churchmen in this instance support the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in opposing an investigation of the Ku Klux Klan by the U.S. House Committee.

The churchmen say they endorse the resolution by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and the SCLC adopted by the organization, last April and as follows:

"We call upon the President of the United States to form a Presidential commission, comparable to the Warren Commission, to fully investigate the crisis in law enforcement and the nation's patterns of violence.

"Such a commission should be assisted by a select committee of the Congress. In urging this course, we wish to make it absolutely clear that such investigation should be concerned only with overt acts and not thought processes.

"We further urge the Department of Justice to prosecute those guilty of facts of violence, terror and intimidation. We call upon all sections of the civil rights movement as well as all civic, fraternal, and religious organizations to join with us in recommending the course of action to the President and the Congress.

"The SCLC is opposed to the House Committee on Un-American Activities investigating Klan-like groups."

We propose that the 'crisis in law enforcement' in our way of life, poses an alarming sustained spectacle

"EVERY MAN IS VALUED IN THIS WORLD AS HE SHOWS BY HIS CONDUCT THAT HE WISHES TO BE VALUED."

Reader laments clamour or seeming "leftists" views

To The Editor

The Recorder

Dear Sir:

Grows a voice on the phone, "Your husband got what he deserved." Stunned, a widow hangs up ... her husband had been killed by the Communists in Vietnam.

Marchers cheer an officer's insubordination. He had refused an order in Vietnam. A leaflet published by a left-wing organization in the United States asks government workers to resign their posts in protest against U.S. policy regarding Vietnam.

Such acts weaken our government because no organization, including a government, can operate unless it has the wholehearted support of its people. Particularly, in these times of national crisis—as the Vietnam war is—these irresponsible incidents weaken the country as well as our government.

In our land of freedom where the government is responsible to the entire voting population, the people on election day determine who will represent their wishes in formulating policy. It is during the election that responsible debate and not the questionable tactics of anonymous phone callers, marchers, and leaflet writers, should appeal to the public, not government employees, to change our Vietnam policy.

To so weaken our government violates the law. This law prohibits acts which interfere with the morale, loyalty, or discipline of our military forces.

To those Indianapolis residents who knew young men who once served in Army ROTC at Crispus Attucks, Wood, Tech, or Shortridge, would you have widows of combat casualties harassed by vicious phone calls? Or would you have an insubordinate officer cheered by left-wingers and Communist sympathizers as a hero?

During the month of October, the beatniks and Communist sympathizers will vociferously proclaim their opposition to President Johnson's policy in Vietnam. Such traitorous demonstrations serve only to weaken the morale of our fighting men and strengthen the will of the Communist terrorists in Vietnam.

These advocates of civil disobedience and violence are traitors to the country and should be tried and punished as prescribed by law.

TEEN-AGERS ARE TERMED A CLEVER GROUP

To The Editor

The Recorder

Sir:

Do you realize how clever our teen-agers are? They are a team. Each tells his or her parents, "I don't see why you refuse me that privilege. Mrs. Jones lets her daughter do it, or go there."

This is the plea in every home. So the mother consents. You know the argument.

My question is why don't you parents team up? I read of a town that did. A group realized that the most dreadful thing that can happen to a teen-ager is unpopularity within his or her crowd. They do things that they know they shouldn't because they think they have to be popular. Maybe he does thing that "everybody is doing this or that."

Let parents organize and be able to give names of five or six who don't allow what they claim "everybody does." A mother who analyzes the problem explains, "The youngsters have to be convinced that it's not them we don't trust. It's their inexperience. They are facing broader social experiences than we ever know."

Parents, youngsters pit you against all other parents. Show yourselves, "tough minded but tender-hearted." Don't wait too late.

Harriet C. Kelley

eventually abetted by, or enlisted under banners of a myriad caravan of our unpredictable fellow-citizens. Somewhere, sometimes these include the "omnivorously opulent" on one hand and the "impecuniously destitute" on the other.

However, now and over a period of more than a century "traditions or thought processes" have been in the background of strikingly alarming overt crimes against the spirit and letter of our fundamental law and all the tenets of our Judeo-Christian "culture." Hate and strife or violence (crime) accruing to our way of life in such manners have thrived on ignorance or misinformation.

Today, over our entire neighborhood world the honest and wise are saying that certain "traditions or thought processes" peculiar to our way of life are basically anti-rational, thrive on scientifically erroneous presentiments and/or survive on ignorance. In some areas of thought it has been charged that in some manners the legislative branch of our federal government has not been immune to such presentiments.

But it appears that the season of awakening is upon us now. And eventually, beyond or above the investigation only of overt acts of crime, over our land, we contemplate outcroppings of abominable and outmoded traditions or thought patterns must be challenged in exploration of crime or attending law enforcement on any or all levels.

LAMENTS RETURN OF KKK TO INDIANA

To The Editor

The Recorder

Dear Sir:

It seems the Ku Klux Klan is on its way back to becoming a power. But let it be known that Negro people will not lie down and be whipped as in other days.

It has been proven that these boys have blood that will be spilled just like the blood of Negro people has been spilled.

But open warfare with these people will tear the country right down the middle, and any one can see what that might mean.

I'm of the opinion that anything that is done will have to come from the outside since every local effort may be thwarted at the same time by outside local affiliates of outside organizations.

I can understand the concern of some of these agencies or organizations about rights that could effect all rights. But don't remember hearing about such dedicated people or organizations doing anything about states that have outlawed some civil rights organizations. I hope I am wrong in my assumption.

President Johnson and Mr. J. Edgar Hoover have made some strong statements about these organizations, bent on the old way. Let us hope that they act before it becomes necessary for a man to shoot his way in or out of his own home.

But there are people and organizations who would aid and gladly. We would prefer law enforcement agencies to do their job, in this instance if they will.

One who thinks the enemy is here and not 13,000 miles away.

ANTI-POVERTY MEASURE PASSED BY U.S. SENATE, $1.78 BILLION

WASHINGTON—Following previous action of the House, the Senate last week-end voted $1,785,000,000 for the second year of President Johnson's anti-poverty program. Some Republicans protested against the measure charging that poverty was being mixed with politics.

"The measure now goes to President Johnson for his signature, and in some opinions he may cut it back to $1.5 billion."

Following a compromise by Senate-House conferees state governors may veto three major types of projects. But the administrator of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Sargent Shriver has power to override their vetoes.

The three programs are Adult Education, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Community Action.

New Shortridge plan is like decapitation as headache cure

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

It is perhaps trite to say that often the cure is worse than the disease, but that phrase aptly describes the new plan dreamed up by our school board for remedying the racial balance at Shortridge High School.

In the first place the idea of an all academic high school is not new—as a matter of fact the earliest American academies, the forerunners of our high schools were modeled on the European plan. The European secondary schools were designed for the education of the elite—the nobility and the well heeled and were not designed for common people. The idea of a public supported secondary school originated in Boston in 1821 and the curriculum although still European oriented made certain concessions to commonality. But by the end of the Civil War when the idea of public high schools spread throughout the land, the idea of preparing the charges for college gained the ascendancy and held it until after the turn of the century.

Before 1900, three fourth of all high school graduates went to college whereas fifty years later only one fourth did so. The rapid increase in school population and the opening of the doors of the high school to all of the children of all of the people necessitated changes in philosophy and curricula. The college preparatory high school gave way to what became known as the comprehensive high school. In this institution college preparatory courses were given but all were given commercial subjects and instruction in manual arts.

The philosophy held that in a democratic society the segregation of pupils along curricula lines and according to ability strata was abhorrent. There were many strictly college preparatory high schools still in existence and in many cases they continued to exist, but the idea of building new ones along these lines became unthinkable.

Shortridge High School enjoyed a wide reputation as a college preparatory high school because its tradition caused many college bound youths to go there in a system where open enrollment existed before 1949 (the year of legal desegregation).

In keeping with the school city's 1949 adopted policy of neighborhood schools, more or less geographically determined, many pupils both Negro and white who formerly would not have chosen or have been accepted by Shortridge were placed in the Shortridge district. Most of them were not college bound and this irked the Shortridge staff. The expanding ghetto and the flight of whites to the suburbs left Shortridge almost completely surrounded by Negroes.

In a frantic effort to remedy the situation, the school board hit upon the plan of open enrollment which allowed whites to transfer from Shortridge and caused some Negroes to transfer to it.

The absence of a clear mandate to persuade Negro eighth graders to choose high schools other than Shortridge, the teachers of Negro eighth grade classes followed the established practice and sent their charges to Shortridge as usual.

Seeing that the open enrollment policy had acted like a boomerang, the school board went back to the horse and buggy days and came up with the prep school idea.

The plan not only subverts the school city's established (since 1949) belief in the neighborhood school, it contravenes the democratic tenet of educating together all of the children of all of the people. If it works (and that is subject to serious doubt) it will create among the youths of the city a kind of intellectual snobbery not oriented to the principles of democracy. Of course it will serve the purpose of correcting the racial imbalance at the cost of creating a different type of Frankenstein's monster.

All of the Indianapolis high schools not only give college preparatory work but they all send their graduates to college, many in a very high percentage. And all of them will be sending more and more to college as the employment situation requires more and more education for success. The Shortridge plan does not envision the enrollment of all college preparatory pupils at that one school and if it did all of the other high schools and their patrons would be up in arms.

There must be a better answer to the problem of correcting the imbalance at Shortridge and what about Crispus Attucks? It has a slight (100 per cent racial imbalance, too!).

TO BE EQUAL

Concern in the White House

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

The White House has indicated that its forthcoming conference on race relations will emphasize the tragic plight of the Negro male.

Stirred by the recent U.S. Labor Department study of widespread disorganization among the Negro poor, President Johnson has asked his braintrust to plumb beneath the surface and to produce some far-reaching solutions.

"There will be no social peace in the United States for generations" (unless the Negro male has the same opportunities as his white counterparts,) the report warns.

His lot is regarded as the key to the future of the Negro poor—and that's every second family of color in this country.

The Urban League movement, of course, has long been trying to focus public opinion on this question. In fact, the Federal report cites these paragraphs from its "To Be Equal" book (McGraw-Hill): "Both as husband and as a father the Negro male is made to feel inadequate, not because he is unlovable or unaffection-ate, lacks intelligence or even a gray flannel suit. But in a society that measures a man by the size of his paycheck, he doesn't stand very tall in comparison with his white counterpart.

"To this situation he may react with withdrawal, bitterness toward society, aggression both within the family and racial group, self-hatred, or crime. Or he may escape through a number of avenues that help him to lose himself in fantasy or to compensate for his low status through a variety of exploits."

As I read these words again I can imagine the fresh batch of letters I will receive accusing me of "making excuses for Negro criminals" and the like.

But just as I tell Negro citizens that "We must do more than deplore injustice by whites," I say it is not enough for white citizens to "deplore" crime among Negroes.

This is a time for understanding—and for action.

Regarding the former, I found my recent trip to Africa of immense usefulness. On that continent I was deeply impressed by the heads-high attitude of ordinary Africans. The colonialism which they endured for centuries has not marked them as deeply as slavery did their American brothers.

In African society, the African male—whether he is a pilot or ditch-digger—feels his worth as an individual. His job is as steady as the next man's, and his family unit is as stable. (This is true for middle-class American Negroes, by the way.) He possesses a spirit of confidence in himself, his daily role, and his future.

The difference lies in the fact that European colonialism thirsted to exploit the land and its resources—whereas slavery sought to exploit the human person. Moreover, because of our Judeo-Christian heritage, the slaveowners had to convince the Negro that slavery was Holy Writ, and moral, in keeping with the servant mentality they forced the slave to assume.

At the same time, they fed the vanity of unthinking white people with the pipe-dream of a superior race—to justify slave-holding. Only in America has the Negro male been so deeply injured.

My understanding is that President Johnson intends to hit hard the issue of the Negro male. Hopefully, his solutions will include far-reaching meat-and-potato programs to encourage Negro youth, to rehabilitate their poverty-struck fathers, and to improve their housing and economic prospects.

Most of the signs of overt discrimination ("white" and "colored") have been taken down. Now the unwritten sign over our ghettos must be removed. For too long it has read: "Abandon hope all ye who enter here."

The people I meet

By BARON HARRIS

Harlem, U.S.A.—During our sojourn with the perennial SHOW BOAT last summer we were able to get a new outlook on a particular brand of theatrical folk and see what makes them tick. In Hyannis, Massachusetts, where we rehearsed a week and showed a week, the housing committee were hard pressed about where yours truly should bunk since rooms in that teeny resort town were at a premium. Nearly every one was staying in private homes what with the hotel already packed and jammed so we were placed in a private home and to our amazement we were given a roommate who turned out to be one SEITH RIGGS who played the leading role, Gaylord Ravenal, a part created for the silver screen by Howard Keel. Now Seth was born in Maryland and everyone knows that that state, for years, has been a hot bed of undermining racial resentment. Seth is a very handsome fellow, six feet tall with an excellent baritone voice and we hit it off in a terrific manner from the outset. Being his room mate gave us a chance to study the man and his actions. We have never before come in contact with a white fellow who had so much to offer and still wore his "usual sized hat". We cannot begin to name the many favors he did for us and is still doing but we can truthfully say he did things for us that we don't think any other person in the cast would have done at that time because nearly all of us were new to each other. Several times we were "up tight" and he NER to teach voice to the stars came to our rescue without a of their many musicals and moments hesitation. During the rest of our tour we were able to learn in Seth we had found a realist who was and had been freed of the usual petty hatreds harbored by most folks in his capacity. He lives music but is not so wrapped up in his own glory that he can't recognize maltreatment when he sees it and, if you are right, he never hesitates to jump to your defense and he goes completely out of his way "to be good to people". There was none of this "bending over backwards to please me" stuff. He treated us with the same respect that he did anyone else and this, within itself, showed us that here was a man who had "no crap in his craw". He, at the time we met, was fresh from playing the lead role in 110 IN

THE SHADE which was a Broadway hit. He treats folks in such a manner that to an unthinking person it would seem that he is catering but to one who is observant he is "just being SEITH". Not only is he an excellent singer but he's also a terrific actor who should be on top right now. He's far seeing, a devoted family man and has excellent taste about many, many things. We have been a guest in his well appointed apartment, sojourned with him and two other fellows to his ranch style farm in New Jersey and we are constantly one of his telephone conversationalists. Fully masculine, witty, charming when needs be, handsome, talented in the multi manner, considerate and thoughtful is Seth. His theatrical credits are too numerous to mention here but we will say that for three years he was leading baritone at this city's famed LINCOLN CENTER. He has been retained by DAVID MERRICK, RICHARD RODGERS and ALAN JAY LERNER to teach voice to the stars came to our rescue without a of their many musicals and moments hesitation. During the rest of our tour we were able to learn in Seth we had found a realist who was and had been freed of the usual petty hatreds harbored by most folks in his capacity. HENRY FONDA, LUCILLE BALL, ALFRED DRAKE and TAMMY GRIMES. As we write this he is preparing to open tonight (Friday) in a brand new Broadway offering about which we will tell you after we have seen it. With all of the aforementioned going for him one would expect him to be completely wrapped up in himself but not so. He is not fool enough to drop something that would greatly enhance his own career to do something that might help another. That would be stupid and idiotic but he's certainly got out of his way, when he doesn't have to, and do things for others with whom he is not long time friends. If there were more people in the world like Seth what a wonderful world this would be. If you theatrical minded folks should ever see the name SETH RIGGS posted anywhere you would do yourself well to go and see what this warm human being has to offer. Where does he find time and energy to be so human both on and off stage? We don't know but he must be doing something right.

The mayoralty campaigns going on here have three candidates running on three different tickets but present city controller, Abe Beame, who has been endorsed by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell is expected to win out over his other two opponents. This is a case wherein present Mayor Robert F. Wagner endorsed another candidate named Scervane and has probably lost his political shirt by doing so. Voters don't cotton to one who endorses a loser. We hope to be around to see how Bob maneuvers when he steps to "pick up the pieces." Haryou Act, Inc. occupies the first five floors of the famed Theresa Hotel with thirteen million dollars earmarked for its use to elevate the youth of Harlem. In case you don't know HAR-YOU ACT INC. means Harlem Youth Act and that is just what the money is being spent for. Thus no riotous outbreaks in Harlem this summer while the rest of the nation went begging for peace. When a people are jobless, poverty stricken and deprived they will certainly upset the applecart to let the power structure know that they too have a voice and intend to be heard. The Biblical line "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" seems to have real meaning for millions of black folk in this country who have come alive with protests and picketing to the extent where they have "the great White father" worried lest he be swallowed up by the black, brown and yellow races of this world who outnumber him two or three to one.

Muchado here about what happens to the present grounds that harbor the World's Fair. Will the grounds become a park as fair commissioner Robert Moses promised or will such become another piece of political fodder. Time will tell. Word has come to us that the Canadian World's Fair will try to outdo our Fair and it's all to draw immigrants to that sparsely settled dominion whose inhabitants number about the same as black folk number in this country and that's twenty million.

Our fingers tire from manipulating our type writer keys and we must be up and about many other things that demand our attention. We have our usual haunts here in the world's greatest city but we still miss our usual beat out west which, as you know, is Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood, U.S.A., the city of make believe.

Fire department promotes five "good firemen"

Five promotions recommended by the Fire Department promotional board were approved by a majority of the three-member board of public safety the last week following some delay in the procedure.

Joseph W. Summers, Democratic member of the board delayed signing the recommendations presented by Fire Chief Arnold W. Phillips to the board at a morning session. Shirley Murphy, Republican member of the board, was not present.

Summers finally agreed to sign or approve the promotions after a huddle with Mayor John J. Barton's executive secretary in the mayor's office. Summers' signature was required along with that of Arthur J. Sullivan, president of the board and as a majority. Sullivan is also a Democrat.

Summers had declined to sign the list because it did not include the name of a Negro fireman he thought deserved promotion. Summers a local Negro funeral director commented finally, "they are all good men."

Five high school ROTC units cited by Fifth U.S. Army

Five city high schools, or their ROTC units have been designated as "Honor Units" for the school year of 1964-65, the Fifth U. S. Army Headquarters announced recently.

Schools qualifying for the distinction were: Arsenal Tech, Crispus Attucks, Emmerich Manual, George Washington and Shortridge.

The selection of these schools for citation was based on results of the annual Formal Inspection conducted last May. The formal inspection was based upon instruction quality, appearance of cadets, facilities and maintenance of enrollment.

For the Arsenal Tech unit it represented the forty-fifth consecutive year of qualification as an "Honor Unit." Broad Ripple and Howe failed to qualify for honor ratings on account of failing to maintain the required formal enrollment.

The eight week course is designed to train selected personnel to identify, receive, inspect, store, ship and issue ammunition components, military explosives, guided missile warhead and propellants, and to dispose of unserviceable ammunition.

Through the enthusiastic support of Grand Exalted Ruler, Hobson R. Reynolds and Grand Daughter Ruler, Nettie B. Smith, the Elks Department of Education raised $42,000 for scholarships in 1965, its Fortieth Anniversary, according to George W. Lee, the Grand Commissioner of Education.

Mr. Lee stated that this was the largest amount of money raised in a single year since the organization of the Department forty years ago. "This money," he said, "has been raised through State Presidents; through dedicated men and women, many of whom gave when they needed help themselves; through Assistant Grand Directresses, Regional Directors, State Directors, and Local Educational groups who went out in the rain and the storm to raise money to help others while many of them suffered from the same blight of poverty and the lack of opportunity."

One of the largest contributions made to the effort was $1,000 given by Doctor Leroy R. Weekes of Los Angeles, California, who graduated from Howard University on an Elks Scholarship in 1935; from Howard Medical College in 1939, and who is today a member of the Board of Examiners for the State of California.

In the past the Elks Department of Education has granted on an average of seven new scholarships each year, but this year Mr. Lee stated, "We will expand our scholarship program to include the financing of forty-three new scholarships involving an outlay of $54,000 yearly, which includes the forty students already on the Elks Scholarship Roll. Financing scholarships is an old story

Chicago based insurance companies propose merger

CHICAGO, September 20 — In a joint statement by the chief executive officers of Supreme Life Insurance Company and Chicago Metropolitan Mutual Assurance Company released today an intention to merge the companies was announced. The resulting company will be one of the largest Negro operated insurers in the world with $360 million of insurance in force.

The plan for the merger is being presented to the Illinois Insurance Department for approval. Earl B. Dickerson, President of Supreme Life Insurance Company and Thomas P. Harris, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Chicago Metropolitan issued their statement following a meeting of the Executive Committee and Board of the two companies. They expect the merger action to become final before the end of the current year.

Supreme Life now has a total of $220 million of insurance in force and Chicago Metropolitan now has a total of $140 million of insurance in force. Total assets of the new broadly based company to be known as Supreme Life Insurance Company of America will amount to $361 million.

The plan was stimulated, according to the statement, by the increased effectiveness and better service resulting from the merger of the two companies. "We will be in a better position to effect savings in operation, reflect improved services and be in a better position to develop stronger and more meaningful plans of insurance protection for all," the statement said.

Above all, according to the statement, the plan to merge the companies will make the insurance offered more competitive with other insurers on the market today. "The present climate of more broadly based economic and social opportunity for the Negro community accords with the insurance needs in that sector as well as emphasizes the welcomed present

Final details of the merger of the companies are now in the process of completion. The plan to merge is to be submitted to the Illinois Insurance Department. The joint statement by the two officers concluded by saying, "Although we are delighted with this development (the merging of the companies), we are fully aware that its effect on the community will require diligent and untiring effort on the part of our staffs. We pledge ourselves to that end."

A massive crowd was on hand the past Thursday evening in the Rose Room of McCurdy Hotel celebrating the NAACP 50th Anniversary and Award Banquet. A turkey dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. Mr. William Bell furnished the dinner music. Invocation was given by Father Terrence Gerkin. The Mayor of the City gave "Greetings," and a brief talk.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Mal Goode, News Reporter, ABC Television, a longtime battler for the rights of his fellow Negro. The dynamic Goode drew frequent applause and a standing ovation from the audience, as he declared his pride in his country—"It's the greatest in the world"—then pointed by point, its shortcomings. His subject was "A Look of Tomorrow."

Many city officials and members of community groups had joined the Evansville branch in its anniversary observance, and Goode declared: "The fact that all of you are here offers the hope we all can live together like brothers should live together. But if Evansville is going to be a great city, you will have to make it so. Each of you will have to be a builder," he declared.

The three hour banquet ended with the presentation of awards to various NAACP members with more than 20 years membership, and plaques to many past presidents and the president, Solomon Stevenson.

Rites were held the past Saturday for Delawson Eidson, 72, of South Evans Ave. in Gaines Funeral Home. Rev. A. C. Gracy officiated. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery. He had been under a physician's care. Was a veteran of World War I, was formerly of Hartford, Ky., where he was a member of Missionary Baptist Church. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Melinda Tryar of Maysville, Ky.

Services were held the past Saturday for Mrs. Lucille Whittell of Independence Avenue in New Hope Baptist Church where she was a member. The Rev. W. R. Brown officiating. Burial in Dixon, Ky. Cemetery. Mrs. Whittell was a member of the Missionary Society and a Woman's circle, also a member of the "Garden Acres Community Club."

Her husband, Harley Whittell, a Chrysler employee, died in 1959. Surviving are twin daughters, Linda and Gloria, both at home, and a mother, Mrs. Myrtle Lewis of Dixon. Tapp Funeral Home at Dixon was in charge of the body. She suffered a stroke.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Maggard are the proud parents of a baby girl, born the past week in Deaconess Hospital. The baby is an 8 pound girl, Sheila Gayle. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

The Senior Usher Board of McFarland Baptist Church wishes to thank everyone for making their Annual fried chicken dinner a success. Many Recorder readers read about it and came out.

avowed as follows: "As they entered the store, a white man, later identified as Coleman, with a shotgun in his hand cursed them and told them to get out of his store."

"Before they could turn around to leave he (Coleman) began shooting. Ruby Sales said that she 'was in front' and she was pushed to the floor by Daniels. He was shot in the stomach and died immediately. Joyce Bailey was pushed down to the floor by Rev. Morrisroe just before he was shot."

"When everything quieted down, Ruby called out 'John' but there was no answer. She said, 'I tried to push him out of the doorway but he was too heavy.' Joyce and Gloria began to ask if everyone was all right, but no answer came from Daniels or Rev. Morrisroe. Panic stricken we ran out of the store and away from the scene."

The first witness for Coleman, presumably in the store was a cousin, Joe Bell Coker, he testified that he saw a knife in Daniels' hand. Also that the Rev. Morrisroe held something that looked like a pistol.

The Rev. Morrisroe is still confined to a Chicago hospital, but a statement he made to be read in court testified he only held a dime in his hand, and he was shot as he turned to leave the little store. Ruby Sales, alert enterprising and active member of the SNCC who tried to lift Daniels to his feet and carry him out of the store said neither man was armed.

The four SNCC members concur in the statement that tribution of their particular brand of culture to this country. The Japanese... will be shown in their contribution to the farming system...

Press reports indicate that Congressman Powell charged that Svejda minimized cultural contributions of Negro people to our way of life and stressed their slave status.

He asserted "... Notwithstanding Svejda's tacitly implied ignorance of the role of Negro People in American history... Negro people have made fantastic contributions to this country's development through intellects, music, songs - and more than anything else - their blood..."

Congressman Powell called Svejda's retention "an unfortunate insult by the federal government to America's 200 million Negroes..."

Proposing a National Museum of Negro History, Powell said, "... Negro people deny their past when they remain psychologically incapable of coming together to erect a cultural monument to their heritage... The impetus must come from the Negro community, not outside it, he asserted."

And assistant in the Washington offices of Congressman Powell said that the letter of protest to Secretary Udall followed protests by two or more groups of people of New York City to Powell.

A SPOKESMAN from the office of Secretary Udall inquired that Congressman Powell's charges were "serious" and would be investigated immediately following their course through regular channels.

AD NOTES

By ELEANOR

We would like to run this column as a regular feature on our Classified Advertising page, but we need a little help from our advertisers. If there is anything going on special in your office let us know.

The month of October is here. Fall has come and the children have settled down with the routine of going to school everyday. Special events and days for this month: October 1 - 31 is "Let's Go Hunting Month" and National Restaurant Month.

As my project for the month of October, I intend to try and visit the office of some of our Classified Advertisers. In time I hope to use pictures with this column.

The new telephone directories are being distributed at the present. Last week we started the change over on telephone numbers in our ads. Did you notice the difference? It looks rather strange to me, but I imagine I'll get accustomed to it.

Campbell Chapel AME Zion Church is having "Sinking Fund Bond" drive. This is really something for parents to consider. The cost of education our children is going up rapidly. This is one way of preparing for that day when they may enter college. The Peoples Bank is financing some of these bonds for those interested. Why not get in touch with Rev. C. J. Antel, AT. 3-4145 or Dr. J. L. Simms, WA. 3-1524 for more information?

Our staff has been increased by one Mrs. Alice Nelson. She is in our news department and is handling copy for the Women's Interest pages. Our circulation manager has taken on a new hobby. He is now a licensed CB'er and really enjoying it. His call letters are KNK 3089.

Schwitzer Corporation has a new Security Guard. He is Fred S. Revere. Mr. Revere has been employed as a truck driver and loader in past years applied for the job of Security Guard and was accepted. I'm very proud because Mr. Revere is my father. Congratulations!

The Reader's Digest for the month of October contains some wonderful articles. For example: "October Splendor," "Want to Sell Your House in a Hurry" and "Say It Now!" There are 90 days left in this year, 85 until Christmas. Have you started your shopping yet?

Do you have any ideas for the next column? If so please call on Monday before 5 p.m.

Call Eleanor,
before Tuesday
5 p.m.

memo to advertisers

People who pay to shop

Most retailers, we suspect, would shudder at the idea of charging customers an admission fee to shop in their stores.

Yet, we do it regularly. Readers buy this paper for the news and features, but they also buy it to see your advertising. They want to know what you are selling, what your prices are, and compare this with what another merchant is advertising.

Readers are shoppers, and people who pay to shop, shop to buy.

Your advertising reaches them as an invited guest. They study it at their leisure, and they will respond if what you have to say interests them.

Who measures this paying audience?

As members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we submit our circulation records to regular inspection by traveling ABC auditors. This is an organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports.

ABC measures our circulation audience, in accordance with the highest industry standards.

Its reports tell how many shoppers buy our paper, where they buy it, what they pay, and many other facts to help you know our paying audience.

For full details on the people who pay to shop, ask to see a copy of our latest ABC report.

A new program of the U.S.
Air Force will now enlist more veterans of all Armed Forces sured of rank, pay, job and as-
